

Your journey continues onto the next GCSE unit

The NHS- Why was it created and what benefits has it brought to the people of Britain?

Cholera and the end of laissez-faire

Liberal reforms- the start of the welfare state

Industrial towns- Why has nothing improved?

17th and 18th Century hospitals- what changed?

The Great Plague- Did Government actions change after the 1348 outbreak?

Examples of good Medieval public health in monasteries and hospitals.

The Black Death and its impacts.

Medieval towns- Why were the conditions so poor?

Modern surgery and key technological developments- keyhole, radiation and laser surgery.

Part 4- Public Health

The development of anaesthetic and James Simpson

John Hunter- aneurysms and dentistry

Pare and battlefield surgery. What impact did WW1 have on surgery?

Dealing with infection and Joseph Lister

The impact of the World Wars: x-rays, blood transfusions and plastic surgery.

Where did the understanding of the body come from?

Which surgeons had a greater impact on change?

How significant were Vesalius and Harvey in the understanding of the fabric of the human body and blood circulation?

Part 3- Surgery

Modern treatment: free vaccines, new drugs, IVF treatments.

Antibiotic resistance and alternative medicine.

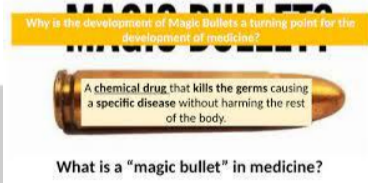

How was penicillin a revolutionary treatment?

How did treatments change in the Renaissance period?

What was significant about the first vaccine made by Edward Jenner?

What is a "magic bullet" in medicine?

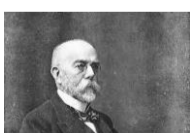

Pasteur, Koch, magic bullets and the race for vaccines

Medieval: Rich versus poor- The Four Humours Theory

How has modern technology helped us to understand the human body better?

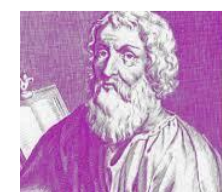

How did these three people (Louis Pasteur, Robert Koch and John Tyndall) contribute to the development of Germ theory.

How did advancements in Islamic medicine eventually influence Europe.

How did John Hunter help in the understanding of bacteria?

Hippocrates and Galen- The fathers of medicine and the foundations they set for the future.

How did the catholic church hinder the progress of medicine?

Britain: Health and the People.
Part 1 The Understanding of medicine

Your journey starts here!